ProMutual Group Hires Marketing Representative for New Territories: N.C., Va.

Boston, MA (July 27, 2010) – ProMutual Group, a leading provider of medical professional liability insurance, is expanding its operations through member company, ProSelect Insurance Company (“ProSelect”), into the Commonwealth of Virginia. Tom Murphy has been hired to manage the distribution network, community relations and new business development. Murphy will also be responsible for these duties in the state of North Carolina.

ProMutual Group’s member companies insure more than 22,000 physicians and nearly 500 hospitals throughout the county. It is known for its conservative and committed expansion into new regions and has never left a state where it has written business. The company offers coverage for physicians, surgeons, hospitals, facilities, allied healthcare professionals and other healthcare providers.

“Tom brings considerable knowledge of Virginia and North Carolina, and he will make a significant impact on the development of these new territories,” said Michael R. Kubik, vice president of marketing for ProMutual Group. “Tom’s experience and skill set will be a great asset to the company as we expand.”

Murphy’s background in medical professional liability insurance includes both the underwriting and marketing fields. He was recently president of his own risk management consulting firm in Richmond, Va. Prior to having his own business, Murphy was vice president of sales and marketing for two brokers where he was responsible for producing and managing new business. Murphy also held positions at The Reciprocal Group in Virginia. In addition, Murphy spent several years with AON as vice president of healthcare sales.

“I’m excited to be with such a highly respected company in the healthcare arena,” said Murphy. “I have been dedicated to the healthcare industry since 1989 and have admired ProMutual Group’s commitment to the healthcare providers it serves. I’m looking forward to helping ProMutual Group grow in these territories.”

Murphy has a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Virginia and has earned the Certified Insurance Counselor designation. He is also a licensed Property and Casualty Consultant. Murphy currently resides in Richmond, Va.
